Bridging Traditional Reporting with Modern Analytics to Accelerate Insights

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Results-driven Data Analyst with proven expertise in SQL, SSRS, and Power BI, delivering data solutions that drive clarity, efficiency, and measurable business growth. I don't just build dashboards—I architect reporting ecosystems that turn complex data into actionable insights, empowering teams to make faster, smarter, and more profitable decisions.

Skilled in query optimization, data modeling, and enterprise reporting, I've developed analytics solutions that cut manual reporting time by 40%, improved data accuracy across departments, and transformed executive decision-making through visual storytelling. My background bridges traditional SSRS reporting and modern BI development, enabling seamless transitions from legacy systems to scalable Power BI platforms that fuel data-driven strategies across the organization.
